

The Emperor Louis Napoleon smoked only the finest cigars the world could produce. Prof. Horsford says the Emperor's cigars were made specially for him in Havana from leaf tobacco grown in the Golden Belt of North Carolina, this being the finest leaf grown. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is made from the same leaf used in the Emperor's cigars, is absolutely pure and is unquestionably the best tobacco ever offered.

Thackeray's gifted daughter, Anne, in her sketch of Alfred Tennyson, in Harper's Monthly, tells of her visit to the great poet. She found him smoking Blackwell's Bull Durham Tobacco, sent him by Hon. James Russell Lowell, American Minister to the Court of St. James.

In these days of adulteration, it is a comfort to smokers to know that the Bull Durham brand is absolutely pure, and made from the best tobacco the world produces. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best and purest made. All dealers have it. None genuine without the trade-mark of the Bull.

A HEAVY BANK FAILURE

Almost Causes a Panic Among Wall Street Brokers.

Grant & Ward, Brokers, Also Fail, and There are Evidences of a Heavy Embezzlement Cropping Out.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Marine National Bank has just closed, and the Clearing House Committee on Banks has gone into session to investigate. No reason is assigned.

April 30, the bank had a capital of $400,000. Fish, the president, owned the Booth theater building, and is largely engaged in other real estate matters.

At the Marine Bank it is stated that President Fish has not been down to-day. The business is entirely suspended. A large crowd is around the doors endeavoring to obtain some information regarding the disaster. The concern is entirely closed, and the police are in charge. It is generally thought that the president lost a great deal of money in up-town real estate.

The failure affects the house of Grant & Ward, brokers, No. 3 Wall Street. A partner of the firm has just said:

"I cannot see how we can save ourselves. I am now waiting to see Fish. We will doubtless publish a statement and notify the stock exchange of our inability to proceed, soon as the partners hold a conference."

The Clearing House Committee has resolved upon nothing. Great apprehension is felt at the closing of the Marine Bank. It means the gravest condition of affairs and recuperation it is believed will be improbable.

The condition of the bank April 24 was: Capital, $400,000; profit, $271,000; circulation, $900,000; due banks, $421,600; due depositor, $5,016,000; unpaid dividend, $500; total, $6,355,100. Certified checks, $322,500; resources, loans and discounts, $4,302,300; U. S. bonds, securing circulation, $900,000. Other stocks, $18,000; real estate, $291,300; due from banks, $109,700. Cash items, $35,400; specie, $1,141,500; legal tenders, $255,700; overdrafts, $400.

The firm of Grant & Ward, of Wall Street, comprise: General U. S. Grant, James D. Fish, U. S. Grant, Jr., Ferdinand Ward and William C. Smith. James D. Smith was President of the suspended Marine Bank.

When it was announced in Wall Street that the Marine Bank had closed its doors, it caused great consternation among the brokers, a scene of great excitement ensued. Large blocks of stocks were thrown on the market by large holders, while bears raided the whole list. Prices began to decline rapidly and amid the large transactions it looked as though a panic was about to take possession of the street. Following close on the heels of the Marine Bank's suspension, came a notification to the President of the Stock Board from the broker firm of Grant & Ward, stating that the firm was unable to meet its obligations. This added to the prevailing confusion, and greatly increased the alarm existing.

The direct cause of the failure is attributed to overdrawing account of the firm of Grant & Ward, who, it is said, have been persistent bulls on its market since the commencement of the spring of 1882. Gen'l Grant was at the office of Grant & Ward when the failure of the firm was announced. The General appeared to be in ill health, completely prostrated at the firm's unfortunate speculations. It is reported $500,000 is missing from Grant & Ward, and that there has been a defalcation. Ward is missing, and the vault doors can not be opened.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Matters Touching Upon the Tariff and Other Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Charles N. Tweed, attorney, was granted a hearing by the House Committee on Public Lands this morning in behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad land grants in California.

The California delegation in the House, it is reported, is equally divided on the tariff bill, making a gain of one for it. Stephens, of New York, who voted against striking up the bill, is reported as again striking out the enacting clause. On the other side, Messrs. Jordan, Lepeare and Seney (Ohio) are said now to be in favor of striking out the enacting clause, making a net gain of one against the bill, leaving a probable vote based on that of April 15, with changes noted, at 106 against 158 on striking out the enacting clause.

Friends of the bill, however, claim to have from three to five of a majority against the motion to strike out.

Randall's desk was decorated this morning with a beautiful basket of flowers, intended as a compliment to the speech soon to be made, or prospective victory of the tariff bill.

In the House the reading of the journal was quickly concluded. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the last day's general debate on the tariff bill. A large number of the absent members have returned, and the seats were more generally filled than at any time since the early days of the session in December. The galleries are crowded and much interest is manifested on the floor.

Brown (Pa.) was first recognized, and made a speech favoring a protective system. He was followed by Townsend (Ill.) in a radical speech on the other side.

Mr. Gibson (W. Va.) said he would sustain the bill, hoping it would be amended by the House.

When Randall rose the members fairly rushed and surrounded his desk. Mr. Taylor (Ohio) rose to a point of order. He said if all kept their seats they could hear; if they were permitted to crowd around the orator but few would be able to hear. The Chair required all to be seated. Randall then proceeded, amid unusually good order. He opened with a quotation from Lord Chatham. Great Britain, he said, had, during the late war, sought every means to cripple this country. Having failed, she sought to coax us into free trade. In her avarice she held in her iron grip Gibraltar, commanded the Suez Canal, while she compelled millions of Chinese to swallow her opium. He denounced the constant tinkering of the tariff, leaving the apprehension that no tariff could last longer than from one Congress to another. Such a course, he declared, was murderous and suicidal. He next proceeded to review the more recent action of Congress on the tariff. He said: After the last change time enough had not elapsed to ascertain the results, or for various industries to accommodate themselves to it before new measures were proposed, which, although impossible to pass with a Republican Senate and the Republican executives at the present session, had caused much injury by agitation. He criticized the horizontal feature of the bill, and declared its introduction was to produce agitation for the sake of agitation, and was unwise. It wasn't so much a 20 per cent reduction as its promises had been declared as a step towards free trade. He quoted Dorseimer, who said that if this didn't reduce the revenue, it would cut too quick and draw the blood. If 30 per cent would not answer, they would reduce it 50 per cent.

Randall then went into a discussion of two systems of revenue—direct taxation and custom duties.

OKLAHOMA BOOMERS.

All Incursions Into the Territory Prevented by Troops.

PORT ARTHUR, I. T., May 7.—The latest newspapers received here from the North contain accounts of meetings in Kansas City and elsewhere of Oklahoma boomers. It should be understood that every white person caught in any part of the Indian country, but especially in Oklahoma, without proper written permission, is by law an intruder, and will be forcibly ejected. This permission can only be given by the Indian Agents in certain cases, the Secretaries of War and Interior, and railway companies to their employees. The United States troops are ordered to eject all Oklahoma settlers, and are abundantly able to do it. Many are now under arrest and will soon be marched to the Kansas line, and figuratively kicked out of the Indian Territory. It is quite time the people in the North should learn that settling in Oklahoma is absolutely impossible without additional legislation or Presidential proclamation. Men in the States who hope to force a division, partition and sale of all land in the Indian Territory, and others who profit directly from the deluded settlers, are keeping up this agitation and deceiving many poor well-meaning people into starting for Oklahoma. Much suffering has already ensued and more will follow until it stops. Men are here without any transportation who will have to march from five to seven days on foot, under military guard, to the Kansas State line. Many of them are without blankets, overcoats or change of clothing, and have had none for two weeks; others are nearly barefooted. A statement of such facts ought to end these senseless attempts at Oklahoma emigration.

A Lost Man Found.

CINCINNATI, May 7.—A corpse covered with a white sheet was the object of attraction at 11 this afternoon at Habig's on Sixth Street. The body was that of Wm. Fishback, a German laborer, single, 35 years of age, of 207 Clinton Street, who mysteriously disappeared about the 14th of last February from his boarding place, 207 Clinton Street, where he was living with his mother in a rented room above a saloon.

Through a thorough search had been prosecuted, and the police officials informed as to Fishback's mysterious disappearance, nothing had been discovered as to his whereabouts until to-day at noon, when the wife of the saloon-keeper at 207 Clinton street, in going down into the cellar with a light saw the moldering body of a man lying against the rear wall. About two inches of rope jutted out from above the collar, which told the story of self-destruction. An alarm being raised, patrol No. 5 took the body to Habig's. When seen by the reporter the body was covered in spots with a bright yellow mildew. The face-pear-shaped—wore a large goatee. Long, curly black hair, streaked with the cellar damp mildew, hung down the shoulders. A hat tipped slightly to one side finished the picture. He had suicided.

Fatally Injured.

CLEVELAND, May 7.—At about 10 o'clock this morning Martin Mahone, one of the oldest and best known expressmen in the city, fell through a hatchway at the warehouse of Strong & Cobb's wholesale drug house, on Long street. He fell a distance of twelve feet, striking on his head. His skull is fractured and he cannot live. Mahone is a very eccentric character, and is said to be worth $200,000, which he made out of his express wagon. To add to the family's distress, they have a daughter lying at the house seriously ill.

Killed His Mother-in-Law.

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Thomas Simmons, a miner at Turtle Creek, was lodged in jail to-day charged with having murdered his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dexter, an old lady. When her body was prepared for burial, numerous bruises were discovered. These, it is claimed, are the result of injuries inflicted by Simmons. Wm. Dexter, Simmons' brother-in-law, says that Simmons frequently knocked old Mrs. Dexter down and licked her.

Massachusetts Solid for Edmunds.

BOSTON, May 7.—The Massachusetts delegates to the Republican National Convention met to-day and organized by the choice of Senator Hoar as chairman, D. W. Cropp as vice president, and John F. Andrew as secretary. Quarters have been engaged at the Leland House. The delegation will reach Chicago on June 1. It was understood that a solid vote will be given for Edmunds on the first ballot.

Death of a Centurian.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Luke Walker was buried yesterday from 181 Douglas street, Brooklyn. He was 101 years old, born in Ireland in 1782, the same year in which Bolivar was born, under whom he fought in 1818. His father died at the age of 101, his grandfather was 103, his grandmother 110, and his great grandfather 98.

FROM OVER THE OCEAN.

Michael Davitt is Simply Going on a Lecturing Tour.

A Real Sensation in High Life in Berlin—Weather Most Extraordinary in Southern England—Notes.

LONDON, May 7.—In an interview with Michael Davitt, in regard to the report that he is about to take up his residence in Australia, he said: "I have no intention of permanently residing in Australia. I am going there on a lecturing tour, and expect before I return to Ireland to lecture in New Zealand, in the United States, and in Canada. I have made arrangements for being absent about two years. I have every reason to believe the tour will be successful. I have received many flattering invitations to lecture from numerous Irish societies in the countries mentioned."

A number of warm admirers of Davitt expressed a desire of presenting him before his departure, with a testimonial of appreciation of the services he has rendered the Irish people in his war against landlords, and as a regard for his many noble qualities. He politely requested them to desist from such manifestations of friendship, stating that the only testimonial he desired was their good wishes, which he felt he would carry with him. Several intimate friends want Davitt to stand for Parliament, pledging, if he would do so, that all their influence would be used. He declined.

A REAL SENSATION.

BERLIN, May 7.—Madame De Valerina, with whom the Grand Duke of Hess Darmstadt has contracted a morganatic alliance, is the daughter of a Russian chamberlain, Count Adam Czapski. She is 30 years of age and has remarkable beauty. She was formerly the wife of a Russian Secretary of Legation, De Kalawana but was lately divorced. It now appears that the Grand Duke's marriage actually took place on April 1, just after his daughter's marriage to Prince Louis, of Battenberg. The left-handed marriage causes a profound sensation as the Grand Duke was the intended husband of the Princess Beatrice of England, until the rejection of the bill permitting the marriage with a deceased wife's sister banished all prospect of that alliance, the Duke's former wife having been the Princess Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria.

WINTRY WEATHER IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 7.—The weather yesterday in London and throughout the Southern counties of England has made a sudden and phenomenal change from vernal mildness to almost wintry rigor. In London there has been an almost continuous snow storm, varied by showers of hail and sleet, and a similar condition of weather is reported throughout Southern England. In many places, and especially in those districts which are remote from the sea, snow has fallen to a depth of several inches.

A Suiciding Family.

DEPOSIT, N. Y., May 7.—The widow of Hiram Hamilton lives with her daughter, Mrs. Topping, at North Harpersfield, this county. In 1878 an elder brother of hers committed suicide. Some time afterward a sister killed herself. Then Mrs. Hamilton's husband died and later a second brother committed suicide. Recently another sister of Mrs. Hamilton's died, and then an only son met with a sudden death. A few days ago Mrs. Hamilton cut her own throat with a pen knife, but prompt surgical aid was summoned and it is thought she will recover. Mrs. Hamilton is wealthy and has a fine house of her own, but went to live with her daughter because she was afraid that she could not resist an inclination to commit suicide that frequently seized her unless she was constantly under the restraining influence of company. Her daughter had stepped from her presence and was absent a few seconds only when she made the attempt on her life.

Important to Federal Officeholders.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Civil Service Reform Association is issuing notices to customs house and other public officeholders directing their attention to the fact that an active interference in politics and participation in conventions is detrimental to their efficiency as officers. Several custom officials, notably Collector Robertson, are delegates to the Chicago Presidential Convention, and others propose going there to canvass for their favorite candidates. Among the officials in the employ of the city who are going are John J. O'Brien, of the Bureau of Elections; John D. Lydecker, Tax Assessor; J. W. Jacob, Tax Assessor; Michael Cregan, Court Clerk; Jacob M. Patterson, Police Justice, and Solon B. Smith, Police Justice.

The Methodist Conference.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—This morning the Women's Foreign Missionary Society reported. Receipts for four years $504,184. Motion that Thursday of next week be set apart for election of officers was referred to committee on episcopacy. Motion that supernumary and supernumary preachers be considered disorderly when they go into another church without the consent of the pastor, referred to committee on itineracy; resolution adopted, tendered by Amos Shinkle, of Kentucky, that a committee of seven be appointed by the Bishops, to report the best method of entertaining the General Conference. Motion referred to the committee of revivals to change the discipline, so as to read "The Holy Catholic and Universal Church."

SUICIDE OF CHARLES FORD.

The Slayer of Jesse James Gone to Meet His Victim.

RICHMOND, Mo., May 7.—Charles Ford, the brother of Bob Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, shot himself through the heart this morning, dying instantly. No cause is assigned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 6.—A dispatch was received here by Robert Ford, announcing the suicide, this morning at Richmond, Mo., of his brother Charley, the slayer of Jesse James.

PHAT IS THIS?

A Joke be Wire, at Telegraphic Expense, be Gorry.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Mrs. Bridget Welsh, a bright-eyed Irish woman, sixty years old, who says she worked a year for General Grant at Long Branch, accused Mrs. Frederica Bremer and her family at the Yorkville court yesterday of assault. Mrs. Bremer is the housekeeper at 130 E. 30th street where Mrs. Welsh lives. "This morning," said Mrs. Welsh, "the lady came up to me appartments wid two clubs in her hands, and says she: 'The Irish must go.' 'The devil a stip will I go,' says I, and ups and takes the clubs from the lady's hands. Thin an come the gentleman wid two clubs in his hands. 'Twas Mr. Bremer. Wid him comes his son wid two clubs in his hands. I called me own son to me assistance, but thin a peaceable woman who has lived with Quaker families most of me life; I did not stroke anny body. They struk me wid a club and pitched me son into a tub of water."

Mrs. Bremer said that Mrs. Welsh's son was drunk, and had made a disturbance, and that the landlord wanted the rooms vacated. The son attacked the Bremers and they defended themselves.

"Madame, your son was drunk," said Justice Duffy.

"Not at all, sorr."

"Be quiet. He disturbed the neighbors."

"Not at all, at all, sorr."

"Be quiet, I say. You are evidently a woman much given to talking."

"Not at all, at all, sorr."

"Will you be quiet? The tenants complain that you are quarrelsome."

"Not at all, at all, sorr."

"Take her out, Roundsman Muldoon. You are discharged, Mrs. Bremer."

A BEASTLY MAN.

Too Mean to Rescue the Body of His Drowned Wife.

WELLS, N. Y., May 7.—"If I should see you drowning, I wouldn't pull you out," said Fritz Sein to his wife, Friday night. Sein is an employee of the tannery. He had been quarreling with his wife. She told him she should better off if she should jump in the creek. Then he made the above remark. Saturday morning an employee of the tannery saw the body of Mrs. Sein floating in the creek. He ran and told Sein, who walked leisurely to the bridge, and, looking down, said: "Yes; that's my wife, but I won't touch her." He went to his work in the tannery. He paid no further attention to the matter until summoned by the Coroner. Later, while going to purchase a coffin, he got so drunk that he was arrested. Mrs. Sein leaves several children.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Miraculous Escape From Death of Hungarian Laborers.

OIL CITY, Pa., May 7.—Intelligence has just been received here of a terrible explosion of gas at Sheffield, Warren County, late last night in the house occupied by a large number of Hungarian laborers. The force of the concussion blew the building to fragments and shook the whole town. The occupants were blown from fifteen to fifty feet, and, although all escaped death, most of them were injured more or less severely. It is supposed the gas escaped from a leak in the pipe.

The Engagement of a Millionaire's Daughter.

NEW YORK, May 7.—A morning paper says Miss Carrie Astor, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Astor, is engaged to Mr. Orme Wilson, the brother of Mrs. Ogden Goelet. The engagement has just become known, although it has been suspected for some time past. Miss Astor is twenty years old and made her debut in society three years ago. She is the youngest daughter and the heir to several million dollars. Her social career has been marked with great success. She has been a general favorite and a great belle. Mr. Orme Wilson is twenty-five years old. He also has a large income.

A Wild Young Girl.

ANNISTON, Ala., May 7.—Miss Lulu Eggleston passed through here to-day in charge of Detective Fleischman, on her way home to Washington. She left home several weeks ago on account of some domestic disagreement, and was followed by the detective to Mississippi, where she had relatives. When captured she expressed a desire to be taken home, saying she would be more sensible in the future. She said: "I reckon I got just a little crazy for the time being. I don't intend to run away any more. You paper men will never have another chance to write of me, unless it be of my funeral or marriage, and her eye twinkled."

Fixing the Height of Dwellings.

NEW YORK, May 7.—At yesterday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen a resolution was adopted fixing the height of dwelling houses in streets and avenues not less than 60 feet wide at not more than 90 feet, and in streets and avenues exceeding 90 feet, at not more than 70 feet. The measurements are made through the center of the facade from the sidewalk up, and include cornices, mansards and attics. Violation of the law is made a misdemeanor or punishable with a fine of $100 for each day the violation continues, or imprisonment for not more than ten days.

Contest Between the Races.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 7.—The municipal election was held here to-day. The white man's party, organized by white Republicans and Democrats to defeat the negro party, won by a handsome majority. For a week the excitement has been intense. To-day everything was quiet. The result means the supremacy of the white citizens in this city.

Pistols Only Were Used.

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 7.—On Saturday night a difficulty occurred at Davenport's store at Prairie Mar Rouge, La., in which Manuel Jennings was killed and several others were wounded. Pistols only were used in the fight, which was a drunken row.
